

Covid-19: Special terms and conditions for the Annual Biocontrol Industry Meeting ABIM 2020

If, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the conference in the year 2020 cannot be conducted as planned, ABIM AG (ABIM) reserves the right whether to cancel the event or to provide and/or to substitute any or all services (in full or partial) on virtual platforms.

In case of cancellation of the conference, all fees paid will be returned to the delegates, exhibitors and sponsors (subsequent “the participants”) minus an administration fee of 20% of the total cost. The participants waive any claims against ABIM, its officers, directors, agents, volunteers, vendors, employees and the Congress Center Basel for losses or damages, which may arise in consequence of the cancellation of the conference and all events in connection with the conference.

In case of the full or partial substitution of the conference on virtual platforms, the fees paid will not be returned to the participants. The substitution of the conference will not allow the participants to cancel the application or the participation of the conference or any services booked in connection with the conference. Sect. 4 of the General Terms and Conditions of the Annual Biocontrol Industry Meeting ABIM is not applicable in the year 2020.

ABIM will inform about the modalities of a possible full or partial virtual substitution of the conference on their website. The participants waive any claims against ABIM, its officers, directors, agents, volunteers, vendors, employees and the Congress Center Basel for losses or damages, which may arise in consequence of the full or partial substitution of the conference and all connected events on virtual platforms. If costs can be saved due to any substitution of the conference, ABIM can offer at its sole discretion the participants a respective credit note for the next year fees (no refund of fees will be paid out).

These special conditions complement and (in case of conflict) supersede all regulations in the applicable terms.
